

Welcome to our public consultation

Thank you for taking the time to attend our consultation event. We are seeking your views on the updated layout and design for a wind farm proposal that we are exploring at Kinnelhead, approximately 6km southwest of Moffat in Dumfries and Galloway.

Our first set of public exhibition events held in June 2025 enabled us to engage with the local community on our early-stage proposal and seek feedback on the scoping design which had been submitted to the Scottish Government’s Energy Consents Unit (ECU) in March 2025.

Those events, together with the subsequent consultation period, generated written feedback from the public for the project team to consider whilst technical and environmental site survey work continued.

The purpose of this final suite of public exhibitions is to provide you with an opportunity to review the updated 16-turbine proposal, speak with the project team, and ask any questions that you may have.

The Kinnelhead Wind Farm proposal will have an installed generating capacity greater than 50MW (megawatts). This means that the application for planning consent will be submitted to the ECU under Section 36 of the Electricity Act 1989 and determined by Scottish Ministers.

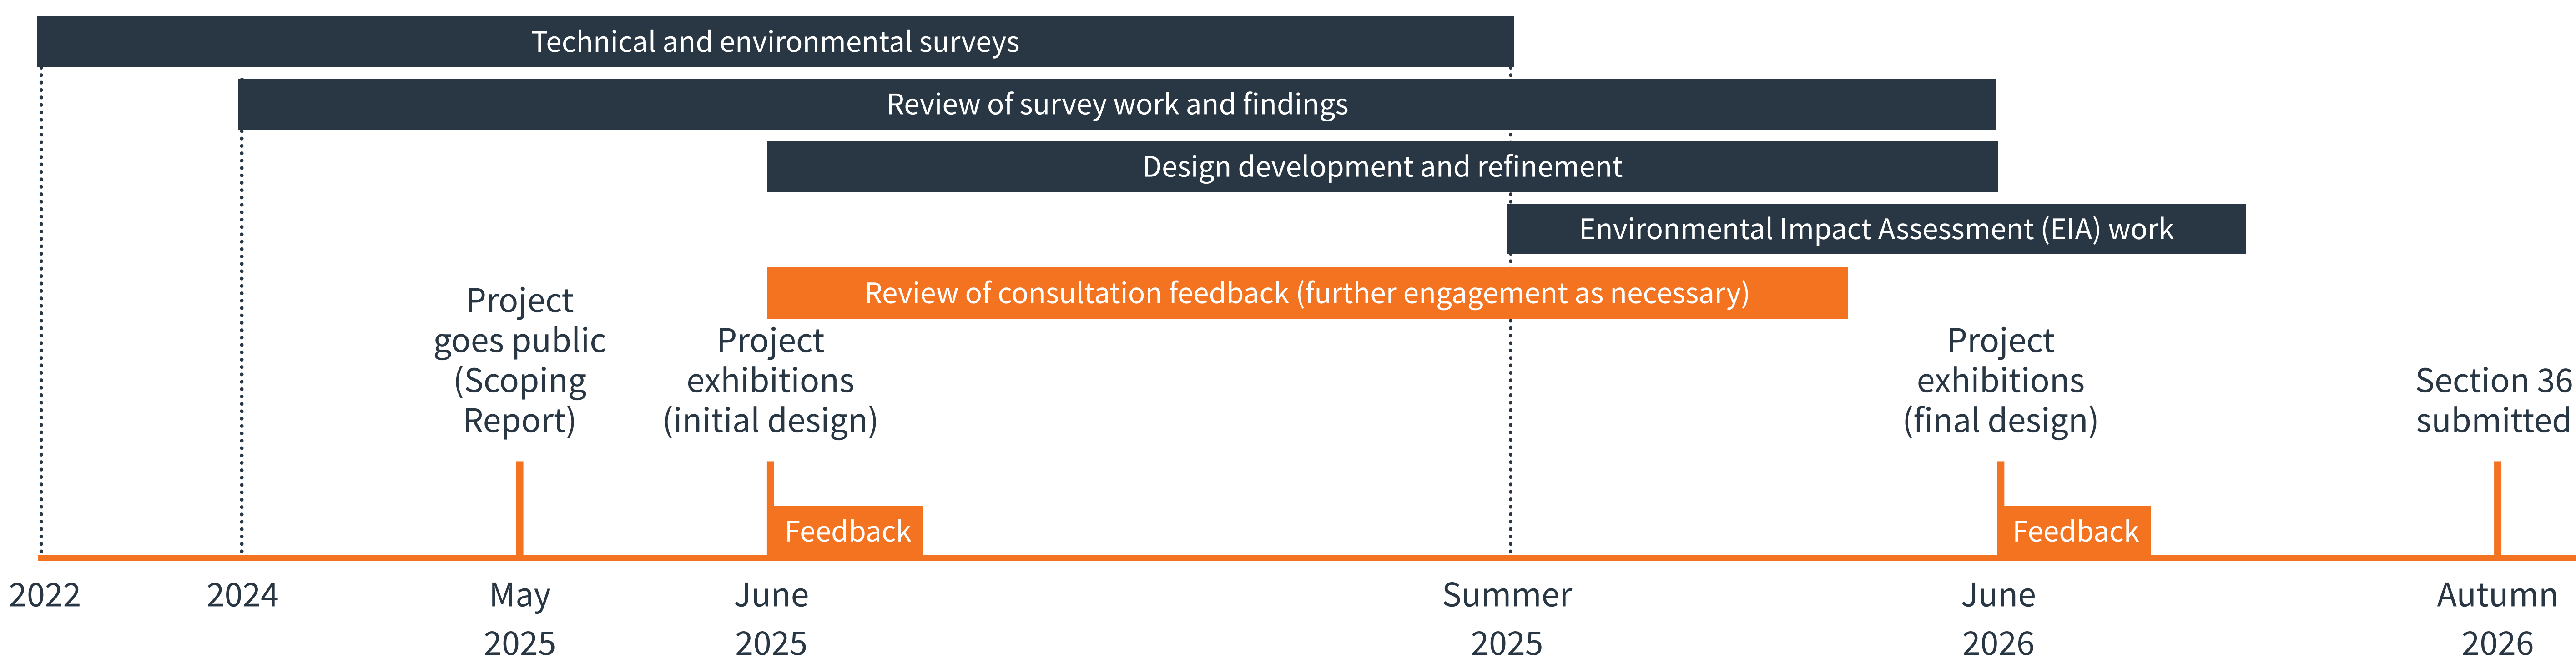

We have provided a range of information including:

- Infrastructure design updates – showing what has changed and why
- Visualisations (photomontages and wirelines) to help give an impression of what the proposal could look like from different viewpoints surrounding the site.
- Environmental Impact Assessment considerations

We have also produced a ‘Report on feedback’ which summarises the feedback received from the June 2025 exhibitions and subsequent consultation period. The report highlights our response to the main themes and feedback from the first round of consultation which has contributed to the changes made to the layout and infrastructure of the proposal. Copies of this Report are available as part of the materials presented and is also available to view at
